BRYAN.

to destroy. He knew he addressed a convention that did not agree with all the views he held, but he knew they would hear him for his cause. New York made no apology for South Carolina (Cheers.) She did not need it. Next he reminded this great convention that it was New York city whose wealth had been so decreed that had always been the Gibraltar of democracy. He asserted this afternoon that the democratic party stood to-day in favor of gold and silver as the money of the constitution, and not for either gold or silver alone, but silver as to the means that should be employed to attain their end. One side favored the co-operation of other nations. It was not a question of courage.

Senator Hill brought his speech to a close by a recapitulation of the defects he found in the platform and said there was still time to remedy them in part.

As he returned to his delegation he was cheered as no other speaker had been since the opening of the convention. The demonstration over Senator Hill was at its height when Senator Vilas ascended the platform to support his New York colleague's arguments.

Mr. Vilas was applauded as he was introduced. The resolutions of the minority were presented, he said, with a recognition that they constituted a protest against the proposed attempt at party revolution.

The question about to be decided was momentous—painfully so. If the majority persisted in its revolutionary methods, they were sure to meet a fearful penalty.

Mr. Vilas told of the change in wages and prices during the decade just passed. The foreign debt was pledged to be paid in gold and for every foreign debtor a creditor would be injured—one of our own people. He protested against the assumption that this was a nation of dishonest debtors. (Applause.)

After Vilas finished his speech Wm. E. Russell, of Massachusetts, was recognized by the chair and spoke for the minority report.

Ex-Congressman Bryan then took the platform to close the debate. He spoke in favor of the minority report. Mr. Bryan was given a rousing reception. Delegates stood on chairs and cheered for several minutes. The band played "We Won't Go Home Till Morning" at the close of his speech.

Bryan was lifted on the shoulders of delegates which surrounded the Nebraska delegation. It was an attempt to stampede the convention for Bryan.

Delegates bearing the state signs marched in the circle around the delegate's seats. All were in line except 16 states, most of the exceptions being the gold states.

Gilroy held down the New York standard to prevent the enthusiastic delegates from other states placing it in line.

After order had been partially restored, Senator Hill was recognized. He moved the adoption of the financial plank of the minority report and insisted for call of states.

The ballot on the substitute financial plank was then begun. On the vote of Ohio it was defeated, the vote to that time was 465; necessary majority 463. The vote of Ohio was challenged.

The official ballot on the minority report on platform is 629 ayes, 313 noes, 1 not voting. This is six more than two-thirds.

At 3:45 Hill was recognized and moved a roll call on resolutions endorsing the present administration.

The amendment endorsing Cleveland's administration was lost. Official results: Ayes 327, noes 564; not voting and absent 9.

Hill's amendment, referring to existing contracts was lost on viva voce vote.

Hill's amendment declaring that in case the adoption of the free coinage plank does not maintain the party of silver one year after its passage it shall be suspended, lost on viva voce vote.

Tillman withdrew his amendment denouncing Cleveland.

Call of states on adoption of platform demanded by Hill.

The unofficial vote is 628 ayes, 311 noes, 1 not voting.

At 4:47 a motion to recess until 8:00 p. m. prevailed.

At 8:30 Thursday afternoon the United Press received the following telegram from Patrick Walsh: "I am instructed by Georgia's delegation to vote aye for W. J. Bryan for president."

The lawless delegation took its first action and voted aye for Bryan immediately after the vote on re-nomination by voting to cast its vote for Bryan.

Wilbur Keathly was drowned in the Big Sandy river near the mouth of cow creek, in West Virginia. He was crossing the river in a small boat in company with his wife, when the boat capsized. His wife clung to the boat and was rescued.

Senator Mella, Carlisle, speaking in the chamber of deputies Thursday, declared that the government ought to be energetic in preparing for the inevitable conflict between the United States and Spain in which Spain would prove her virility and her greatness.

It was ascertained at the government house, Ottawa, Ont., Wednesday night that Sir Charles Tupper had resigned and that Lord Aberdeen had sent for Mr. Laurier, premier-elect.

The resignation took place about seven o'clock. Mr. Laurier is expected there Thursday.

The Herold news agency gives currency to a report that there has arrived in Berlin from Caracas a special envoy entrusted by the Venezuelan government with authority to negotiate with the British government a settlement of the boundary dispute between the two nations. The report, however, lacks confirmation.

Jennings Bros. & Co., limited, Pittsburgh, sheet steel manufacturers, owning and operating mills in Allegheny and Leechburg, have confessed judgment to H. G. Alvason to the amount of $84,955.41. Operations will be suspended pending an effort to adjust the company's financial difficulties. It is believed the creditors will not suffer loss.

The general meeting of the National Education associations held two sessions in Buffalo, N. Y., Wednesday, morning and evening session. The report of the committee on nomination and election of officers will not be submitted until Thursday morning.

Minneapolis seems likely to be chosen as the next meeting place although Detroit is making a strong fight.
